

FAMOUS BOTANIST BRINGS BOUNTY.

An illustrious botanist ~~is~~ accepted as Director of The Royal Botanical Gardens, Kew.

Joseph Dalton Hooker is a pioneering and experienced botanist who has voyaged far to discover new plant life.

Joseph Hooker has gone further than anyone has before: he even got ~~of~~ imprisoned once; he had roamed too far in India.

Joseph's father - William Jackson Hooker - was director of Kew before him so that could have given him an advantage.

~~Bygone~~ Before he was a botanist, Joseph Hooker was a surgeon on HMS Erebus. He used his qualifications to get a government grant to help achieve his goal to become a botanist.

Joseph Hooker himself quoted "It is an honour and a pleasure to be working at Kew - its reputation for plants and wildlife is second to none."

Joseph ~~Hookers~~ Hooker's skills shall be all-encompassing at Kew.
